

THE week past has been a gay one in the social world, the week's festivities beginning with the largest and most elaborate affair of the winter, the opening on Monday and Tuesday evenings of the new home of Senator and Mrs. Thomas Kearns. The beautiful home is to be the scene, doubtless, of many delightful events, but the friends who thronged the rooms on those two evenings will always recall the delights of that time.

Card parties, luncheons, dinners and teas have alternated in the round of the week's gaieties, and the plans of the day set for the near future include a number of like events, with some of a more original nature. The national bird will play an important part in the entertaining of the present week, and many small but enjoyable home dinners will take the place of more elaborate gatherings.

Coming Events.

The university students will give a reception and ball next Friday evening in Christensen's hall in honor of the visiting football team and those who accompany it from Stanford. The affair is to be one of social importance, and the following ladies will be the chaperones: Mrs. H. M. Wells, Mrs. Thomas Kearns, Mrs. J. R. Kingsbury, Mrs. Hoyt Sherman, Mrs. Edwin B. Holmes, Mrs. Robert Harkness, Mrs. W. R. Riter, Mrs. David Keith, Mrs. S. Bamberger and Mrs. J. A. Ferguson.

Mr. and Mrs. S. V. Shelp will entertain at a series of parties the first part of the month, giving evening parties on the 1st, 2d and 4th, and Mrs. Shelp entertaining at luncheons on the 2d and 5th.

Mrs. Walter Ellerbeck and Miss Genevieve Ellerbeck will entertain at a large reception on Monday, the 1st of December, and again at a euchre party on Thursday afternoon, the 4th.

The marriage of Miss Emma McIntyre and Mr. Richard Latimer will take place tomorrow at the home of the bride's parents, 351 S. Street.

Mrs. E. W. Whitney will entertain at two large afternoon card parties on Tuesday and Wednesday.

Colonel and Mrs. J. G. Holmes will give a large dinner for about sixteen guests on Thursday evening.

Mrs. Thomas Weir has invitations out for a luncheon to be given Tuesday.

Mrs. Edwin F. Holmes will entertain at dinner this evening.

Davidson-Taylor Wedding.

Word was received in the city during the past week of the marriage of Miss Emma Davidson of Honolulu, to Mr. Albert Taylor, formerly of this city. The approaching event was announced exclusively in The Herald immediately beforehand, and the many friends of Mr. Taylor in this city sent their good wishes to him and his bride. The wedding took place at the home of the bride's parents, Manoa Valley, the most picturesque and beautiful suburb of Honolulu, on the 5th of the month, and was one of the largest and most elaborate weddings ever seen there. Preceding the ceremony the groom was given a bachelor dinner by the members of the "Bohemian," and accompanied by his best man, Mr. Robert Shingle, one of the foremost brokers of the islands, drove to the home. At the hour of 8 the ceremony was performed by the Rev. William Kinkaid, the wedding march preceding and a quartet, furnishing soft music throughout. The bride was attended by her sister, Mrs. Alice Alton Hutchinson, as matron of honor, and was escorted in a lovely gown of white with real lace trimmings. She carried a shower bouquet of white carnations and orange blossoms tied with tulle. Among the wedding gifts was a deed to a lot in Manoa Valley, on which the young people will erect their new home.

Musical Reception.

A very delightful event of the week was the musical reception given Tuesday afternoon by the Clavier quartette at the home of Mrs. Graham F. Putnam. During the hours of the afternoon the home was filled with guests and a continuous musical program was rendered. Four numbers were given by the quartette, two vocal solos by Mrs. Melvin of Washington, D. C., one by Mrs. A. G. Andrews and one by Miss Duncan. Assisting in receiving the guests were Mrs. Ledyard M. Bailey, Mrs. A. H. Peabody, Mrs. Royce and Mrs. Causten Brooks. Mrs. Grant Smith poured coffee in the dining room and the young ladies assisting her were the Misses Paul, Miss McMillan, Miss Miller and Mrs. Julian A. Knight.

Dinner.

Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Williams and Mr. and Mrs. J. K. McMillan gave a most delightful dinner Thursday evening at their cozy home on Sixth and L streets. The table decorations were very effective. Resting on a large beveled mirror in the center of the table was a tall cut glass chalice filled with drooping pink and white carnations, and the same flowers with dainty sprigs of maidenhair ferns were artistically scattered about the table. The favors were bunches of pink and white carnations tied with long ribbons of the same colors. Beside the hosts and hostesses were Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Judson, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Carpenter, Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Higbee and Mr. and Mrs. Myers.

At Luncheon.

One of the most enjoyable of the week's events was the luncheon given at the Alta club Thursday by Mrs. J. R. Walker, in honor of Mrs. Buhl of Sharon. The table was spread in the red dining room and the table decorations were entirely in red and green. In the center of the board was spread a piece of rare lace and on this were placed four heavy silver candlesticks with red candles and shades. At either end of the table were baskets of red carnations and ferns, and to these streamers of smilax were festooned from the chandelier. The place cards were of red and red carnations were scattered over the cloth. Covers were laid for twenty guests.

An Autumn Dinner.

Judge and Mrs. W. H. King gave a delightful dinner Thursday evening in honor of Major and Mrs. Richard W. Young. Red and green were the colors used in the table decorations, the centerpiece being a cut glass bowl filled with Jacquemont roses. A handsome piece of lace was placed under this, and at the ends and sides of the table cut glass candlesticks shaded with green lighted the table. The same colors were used to shade the lights above. The other guests present were Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Riter, Mr. and Mrs. David Evans, Mr. and Mrs. T. Farnsworth, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Spencer.

Violet Card Party.

Mrs. H. G. Whitney entertained again on Friday afternoon, this time at a card party at which the game was sixty-three. The decorations were entirely in violets, and the tallies and score cards were watercolor sketches done in the same flowers. Large bowls of the fragrant flowers were used to decorate the house, and for the first prize a beautiful watercolor painting of violets was awarded to Mrs. Frank Swenson. The second prize was a bunch of violets, and this was won by Mrs. William Reid.

Theatre Parties.

Mrs. D. C. McLaughlin entertained at two theatre parties during the week, the first being given Monday evening, at which her guests were Mrs. Rachel Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Beattie, Major Lewis and the Misses Miller. At the matinee party given Tuesday afternoon the following ladies were her guests: Mesdames Rachel Miller, Arthur Brown, W. H. Dale, F. Dickert, Hemphill, Sanford, Gallagher, Groo, Thorn, David Evans, Karkick, Pinkerton, Wall, Beattie, the Misses Miller and Miss McLaughlin.

At Dinner.

Mrs. Burns Macdonald was the guest of honor Thursday evening at a delightful dinner given by Mr. and Mrs. Victor M. Clement. The table decorations were red and green, the idea being well carried out in deep red carnations and smilax. Handsome cut glass candlesticks held red candles and these were shaded with red shades. The guests of the affair were Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Walker, Miss Judge, Mr. R. B. Watson, Mr. Jackson and Mr. McCormick.

At Cards.

Mrs. Robert Glendinning was the hostess Tuesday at a prettily arranged card party at which about forty of her friends were entertained. A profusion of autumn flowers decorated the home and foreign postals were used for the tallies in the game of sixty-three. The first prize was won by Miss Alice Miller, the others going to Miss Blanche Kimball and Mrs. Albert Cooper Allen.

Pink Dinner.

Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Wilson entertained at a pleasant dinner Friday evening at which covers were laid for ten guests. The table presented a very pretty picture with its pink decorations, carnations, candle shades and streamers of ribbon being all of pink. Place cards done in the same colors were used, and handsome candelabra lighted the board.
